Dear Mr. Chairman,

As a pro bono volunteer consultant of SuCoAsMa, I am writing to suggest an excellent business opportunity for your Company: namely, the creation of a subsidiary similar to Fidelity Digital Investments, but focused on SuCoAsMa stock instead of Bitcoin.

It is possible that some old school financial experts who actually bother to read the attached SuCoAsMa Prospectus may not be favorably impressed. However, as explained in that document, this new asset — which is not any run-of-the-mill equity — is a definite improvement on the Bitcoin concept, and has even better revenue potential for brokers and marketplace operators, if properly exploited.

I need not point out that, as shown by the success of Fidelity's Bitcoin initiative, any manure-class investment instrument can become a gold mine if wrapped into a derivative product or service with a highly respected and prestigious brand in its name.

Sincerely,

Jorge Stolfi, Ph. D.
